1. [ ] called to advise that a provisional appointee scheduled to enter on duty with the Agency today had been rejected by Security. The young lady called Senator Beall's office and they in turn called [ ] and asked that he see her. Following this meeting a call was made to Mrs. Wolfe, Senator Beall's Administrative Assistant. Mrs. Wolfe was advised that [ ] had explained to the young lady that there had been a mix-up in connection with her provisional appointment and that while we could not guarantee her a permanent appointment, we were putting her on the payroll on a provisional basis. If we should find that we cannot give her a permanent appointment, we shall be pleased to assist her in locating a position elsewhere. Some of the reasons for the provisional appointment arrangement were described to Mrs. Wolfe who seemed satisfied and most appreciative of our call.

2. [ ] of the [ ] briefed me in considerable detail on the particular operation which as it unfolds appears to bring in the names of certain Senators and Congressmen. He had brought this to my attention apparently at the suggestion of the Director and will provide this office with continuing reports until such time as it seems that some action may be necessary.

3. Talked with John Conway, Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, about possible dates for the Director's briefing of the Committee. He indicated they were extremely busy with Euratom and the British-U.S. agreement. Therefore, after checking with James Ramey, it was suggested that some day during the week of 28 July. The above information was relayed to Mr. Earman. After further checking, Mr. Earman inquired who the DCI was to telephone if he was to set it up sooner than the week of 28 July. It was suggested that under the circumstances it would be desirable for the Director to call the Chairman, Representative Durham.
